

2008 Research Agenda for Climate Change and Migration

David Wrathall (King's College, London)

Benjamin Morris (University of Cambridge)

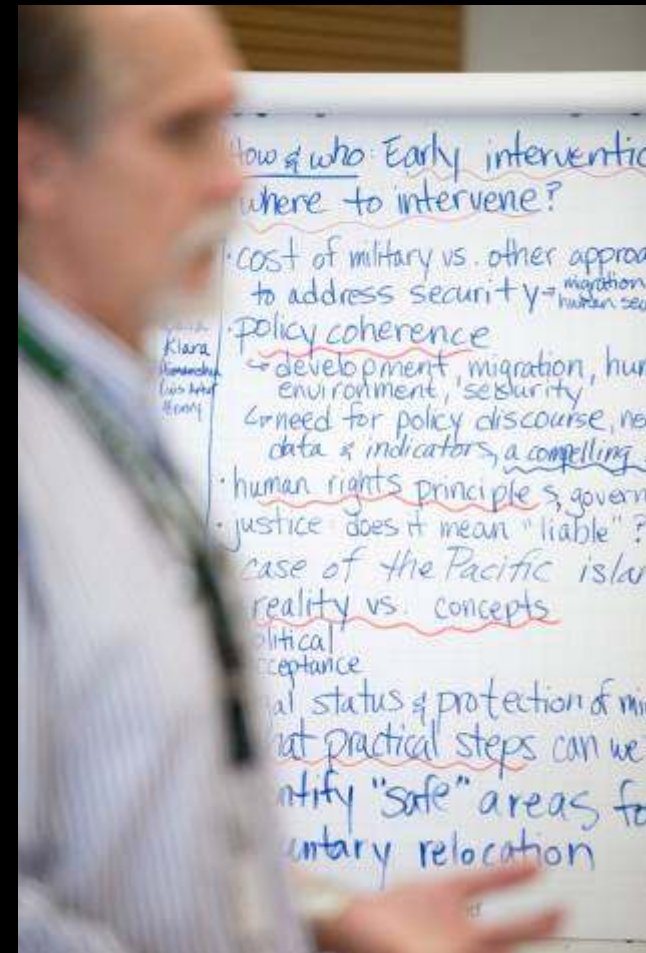

Primary Research Needs

- Driving Factors
- Measurement and Assessment
- Socio-cultural Dimensions
- Policy Impacts and Implications
- Next Steps

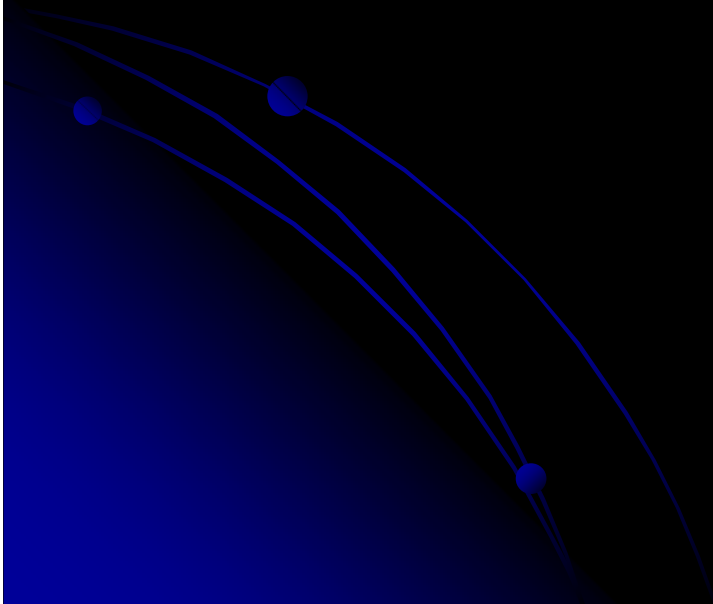

Driving Factors

- Historical factors
- Lack of awareness of migration
- Complexity of driving factors

Assessment

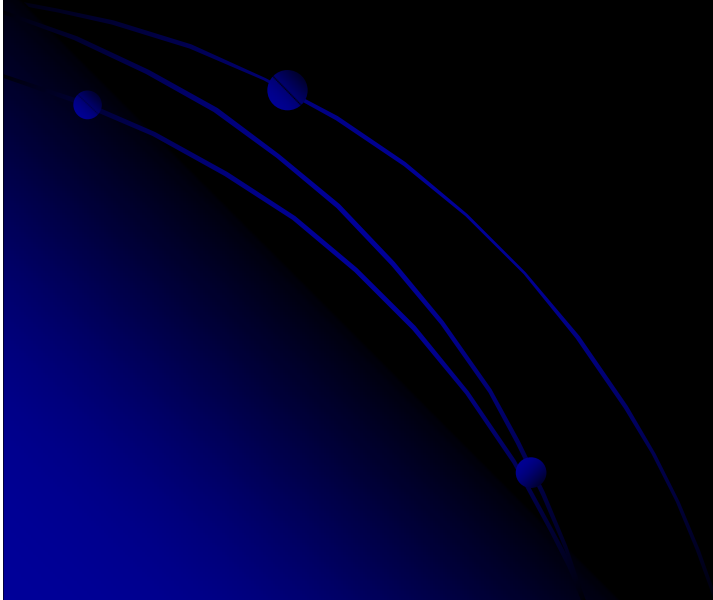

- Measurement of environmentally-induced migration
- Definitions
- Tools and methods

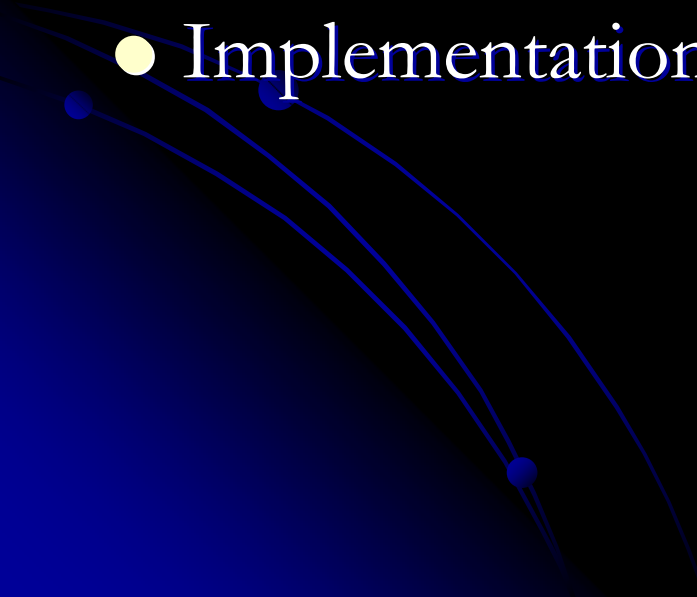

Socio-Cultural Dimensions

- Local adaptation
- Successful resettlements
- Public and private interests
- Linkages to other issues

Research and Public Policy

- Notions of the 'public good'
 - Defining the problem
 - Structures and capacities of governance
 - Policy alternatives
 - Implementation and evaluation
-

Next Steps:

- Compendium of Semi-structured Case Studies
- Catalogue of Data
- Blue-print for a Convention on Environmental Migration
- Typology of Policy Tools
- National Adaptive Capacity
- Forecasting Tools

- David Wrathall
david.wrathall@kcl.ac.uk
- Benjamin Morris
bam32@cam.ac.uk
- With thanks to Heather Lazrus, Lezlie Morinière, Divya Chandrasekhar, David M'kwambisi, and Himanshu Grover.
- Extra special thanks to UNU-EHS and the Munich Re Foundation!

